

Monday evening

Leader: As we prepare to enter into a new communal relationship,
let us open ourselves up for trust to enter in.

Prayer Readers:

Evening

Mother of the Weary,
grant me your evening blessing.
Rock my spirit into peacefulness.
Ease my cares away from me.
Nest in the home of my heart
and cradle my life in your love.

As I gaze back upon the day
that I have just traveled with you,
accept my gratitude for the joys
and my sorrow for the failings.

Abiding Peace, bestow upon me,
and upon all who dwell on earth:
your protective shelter in our sleep,
your guarding presence from all harm,
your perceptive spirit in our dreams.

First Star of the Evening,
be the strong light in my heart.
Shine brightly while I slumber.
Abide with me in tender vigilance
so that I will arise in the morning
with my soul awakened in your love.
